THE PROVEN
PRODUCT

For more than 40 years, people here have trusted LP CanExel prefinished siding to protect, enhance and improve their homes. With a beautiful finish, lasting durability, an authentic wood-grain look and a proud legacy, CanExel siding goes above and beyond to create products you can enjoy for years. And because it's CanExel prefinished siding, every product is backed by a strong warranty from a company that was born in Canada.

We put care and hard work into our products because we know that you put care and hard work into your home. That's the CanExel prefinished siding difference. That's how you can tell it's CanExel.

Beautiful Finish That Captures Attention

CanExel siding utilizes premium quality Valspar Paint® in our finishing process, which includes five coats of uncompromising heat-cured paint – rather than paint that has been air-dried – along with a sealer. This process provides increased resistance to cracking, splitting, warping, splintering and buckling of the substrate, so you can feel confident in the lasting beauty of your home.

Wood-Grain Look Creates Authentic Curb Appeal

A beautiful wood-grain appearance is highly desirable on a home, and CanExel prefinished siding proudly delivers an authentic, textured wood-grain look. Our wide variation of patterns create a rich, unique siding style for your home that reduces the appearance of pattern repetition sometimes seen in other brands.

Durability You Can Count On

CanExel siding has been subjected to outdoor testing in seven different extreme North American climates. Our siding also undergoes UV testing in all of these climates, from intense cold to intense heat and beyond. We continually evolve our product based on the results of these tests to maintain optimal performance. When you're putting CanExel siding on your home, you're putting on siding that was built to last.

A Legacy You Can Trust

CanExel has been working to improve the beauty of homes for more than 40 years. Our craftsmen are dedicated to creating products they would be proud to put on their own homes, and we stand behind every piece of siding we make. With CanExel prefinished siding, you can trust you've made the right choice.
